APPENDIX A: PROGRAMS AND SERVICES CURRENTLY OPERATING IN THE MISSION SERVICES TARGET AREA	14

INTRODUCTION

The Social Planning and Research Council of Hamilton (SPRC) is a non-profit, registered charitable organization governed by a community-based Board of Directors. Our goal is to improve the quality of life for the citizens of Hamilton through strengthening the community's understanding of social problems, developing strategies and the community's capacity for addressing these problems, and assisting community groups to implement these strategies.

In July of 2007, Mission Services of Hamilton approached the SPRC with interest in developing a better understanding of a specific area in Hamilton's East end. The area's boundaries include Ottawa Street (to the West), Parkdale Avenue (to the East), Burlington Street (to the North) and Main Street (to the South). In terms of geographic units defined by Statistics Canada, the target area corresponds to an amalgamation of six census tracts (tracts 054, 055, 056, 057, 058, and 069). Census tracts are small, relatively stable geographic areas with a population between 2,500 and 8,000.

This short report provides a snapshot of the Mission Services target area, considering a range of population characteristics as well as community supports and services that are currently operating within those boundaries.

In terms of population characteristics, the report considers age distribution of the population, levels of education, immigrant and visible minority groups, persons with disabilities, and employment and income levels. The data presented was collected during the 2001 census conducted by Statistics Canada. While a more recent census was conducted in 2006, the full set of data will not be released until May of 2008.

With respect to community supports and services, the report includes a list and description of eighty-four agencies, programs/services and institutions that are based in this geographic area, including local schools and churches. The data was leased through Inform Hamilton, a not-for-profit agency that maintains a database of local community services.

The purpose of the report is to assist Mission Services with service planning. The analysis of population characteristics is useful in understanding needs of the community. Identifying what services and supports are currently available and geographically accessible to the population will help to avoid duplication of services.

AGE DISTRIBUTION OF THE POPULATION

This section of the report provides a breakdown of the total population of Mission Services target area into selected age groups. This type of information is often useful in terms of service planning, specifically for youth and seniors.

Table 1 shows the population distribution by age groups for the Mission Services target area, based on the 2001 census. It is interesting to note that the distribution of age groups mirrors that of the Hamilton as a whole. This tells us that there are no over or under represented age groups within the Mission Services target area.

Table 1: Population Distribution by Age Groups for the Mission Services Target Area (2001 Census)

Age Group	Number of Individuals	Percentage of Population
Total	16,015	100 %
0 to 14 years	3,260	20 %
15 to 24 years	2,000	12 %
25 to 34 years	2,300	14 %
35 to 44 years	2,995	19 %
45 to 54 years	2,155	13 %
55 to 64 years	1,325	8 %
65 to 74 years	1,015	6 %
75 + years	955	6 %
Total 0 to 17 years	3,845	24 %
0 to 5 years	1,265	8 %
6 to 17 years	2,580	16 %

While the population residing in the target area represents a 'normal' age distribution, a couple of observations can be made. Children and youth (0 to 17 years) make up almost ¼ of the total population (3,845 individuals). At the other end of the age continuum, 12% or 2,010 individuals are over the age of 65. In terms of gender, Table 2 shows that women over the age of 75 (T = 630) outnumber men in this age group (T = 320) by almost 2 to 1.

Table 2: Persons 65 years and Over by Gender for the Mission Services Target Area (2001 Census)

Age Group	Males	Females
Total 65 years +	865	1,110
65 to 74 years	540	475
75 years +	320	630

While this is a natural phenomenon as women tend to outlive men, this age group tends to have high needs. Any efforts to address these needs should also consider how the needs of senior women are different from those of senior men.

LOW INCOME HOUSEHOLDS

For the purposes of this report, the Statistics Canada Low-Income Cut-Off (LICO) will be used to measure the level of poverty in the Mission Services target area. The LICO measure is a relative measure of poverty introduced in Canada in 1968. When researchers or the media refers to “poverty lines” or “incidence of low-income”, they are generally referring to the LICO measure.

Basically, the LICO considers the average cost of basic necessities (including housing, food, and clothing) for different sized households in different sized communities. The measure then adds an additional 20% to determine the low-income cut-off for the specific group. Table 3 shows the LICO for a community the size of Hamilton by family size. For example, the LICO for a single person in Hamilton is $16,160 annually.

Table 3: LICO Levels for the City of Hamilton – 2001

Family Size:	Low-Income Cut-Off
1 person	$16,160
2 person	$20,200
3 person	$25,123
4 person	$30,411
5 person	$33,995
6 person	$47,579
7+ person	$41,163

Table 4 show the distribution of individuals by age groups living in low income households for the Mission Services target area. As the table shows, 27% of the population is living below the low income cut-off. This is substantially higher than the population of Hamilton as a whole, which was 20% at the time of the 2001 census.

While the rate of child poverty in the Mission Service target area is consistent with that of the city as a whole, these numbers should be of great concern. More than ¼ (26%) of children and youth under the age of 17 are living in low income households, with a total of 1,120 individuals. As we know from existing research, growing up in poverty can severely affect a child’s success in school and, consequently, their future success in the labour market.

Table 4: Individuals Living in Low Income Households by age Groups for the Mission Services Target Area (2001 Census)

Age Group	Number of Individuals	Percentage of Population
Total	4,250	27%
0 to 14 years	935	22%
15 to 24 years	650	15%
25 to 34 years	440	10%
35 to 44 years	630	15%
45 to 54 years	465	11%
55 to 64 years	405	10%
65 to 74 years	290	7%
75 + years	455	11%
Total 0 to 17 years	1,120	26%
0 to 5 years	390	9%
6 to 17 years	725	17%

Table 5 describes the proportion of low income households by household type. Household type, in this case, refers to families, either couples or lone parents versus unattached individuals. In terms of families, 22% of those living within the target area are living below the low income cut-off, compared to 16% for the city of Hamilton. It should also be noted that while the rate of poverty among all lone parent families is 51%, among lone parent families with children under 6 years (T = 195), 72% (T = 140) are living below the low income cut-off.

Table 5: Low Income Households by Household Type for the Mission Services Target Area (2001 Census)

Household Type	Number of Households	Number of Low Income Households	Percentage of Low Income Households
Families – Total	4,540	1,005	22%
Couple Families	3,945	700	18%
Lone Parent Families	595	305	51%
Unattached individuals	2,275	1,225	54%

Traditionally, unattached individuals report a disproportionately high rate of poverty, reflecting the challenge of running a household with a single income. For unattached individuals in the Mission Services target area, the rate of poverty (54%) is a full 8% higher than that of the city of Hamilton (46%).

CONNECTION TO THE LABOUR MARKET

This section of the report examines the connection of residents to the labour market in the Mission Services target area versus the city of Hamilton as a whole. Specifically, we consider participation rate, employment rate and the unemployment rate.

Labour force participation refers to the proportion of the population 15 years and over, who are working or actively looking and available for work. Those not in the labour force includes stay-at-home parents, full-time students, persons with disabilities with barriers to employment and discouraged workers. As shown in Table 6, the participation rate for Mission Services Target Area (62%) is only 2% lower than for the City of Hamilton (64%).

TABLE 6: Labour Market Characteristics in Hamilton versus the Mission Services Target Area – 2001 Census

Labour Market Characteristics	Hamilton	MS Target Area
Participation in the labour force	64%	62%
Employment rate	94%	92%
Unemployment rate	6%	8%

The employment rate reflects the proportion of the total population, 15 years and over, that is employed at the time of the census. In the case of Mission Services Target Area versus Hamilton, Mission Services target area shows only a 2% difference at 92% than Hamilton as a whole at 94%.

With respect to unemployment, the unemployment rate refers to the proportion of individuals who are in the labour force, but who were not employed at the time of the census. As Table 6 shows, the unemployment rate in Mission Services target area (8%) is only slightly higher than the City as a whole (6%).

It is interesting to note that while the labour force participation and unemployment rates in Hamilton versus the target area are very similar, the rate of poverty in the target area is a full 7% higher. This suggests that the quality of employment secured by target area residents is lower, characterized by low wages and part-time, temporary and contract work. It is also important to note that this type of 'precarious employment' rarely offers benefits, which adds additional strain on individuals and families.

PERSONS WITH DISABILITIES

According to the 2001 census, the number of persons self identifying as having some type of disability reflected 14% of the total population of Hamilton. As Table 7 shows, the proportion of persons with disabilities residing in the Mission Services target area is 50% higher at 21%.

Table 7: Persons with Disabilities Residing in the Mission Services Target Area (2001 Census)

Age Group	Number of Individuals	Percentage of Population
Total	3,290	21%
0 to 14 years	170	5%
15 to 29 years	375	12%
30 to 44 years	520	16%
45 to 59 years	910	28%
60 + years	1,340	41%

The high proportion of persons with disabilities living in the target area may be one factor in explaining the high rate of poverty. As described in the SPRC publication Incomes and Poverty in Hamilton (2004), persons with disabilities face disproportionately high levels of poverty. In Hamilton, 30% of persons with disabilities live in poverty, compared to 20% for the population as a whole.

IMMIGRANT AND VISIBLE MINORITY POPULATION

The City of Hamilton ranks 6 among medium to large urban areas in Canada, in terms of the proportion of foreign-born residents. However, at 17%, the Mission Services target area has a substantially lower immigrant population than Hamilton as a whole (25%).

Table 8: Immigrant Status by Period of Immigration for the Population 15 Years and Older in the Mission Services Target Area (2001 Census)

Period of Immigration	Number of Individuals	Percentage of Population
Total Immigrant Pop.	2,195	17%
Before 1950	150	7%
1950 to 1959	480	22%
1960 to 1969	360	16%
1970 to 1979	320	15%
1980 to 1989	465	21%
1990 to 1994	265	12%
1995 to 1999	140	6%

The area also has a disproportionately low proportion of individuals with visible minority status (5%), as compared to the City of Hamilton as a whole (11%).

LEVEL OF EDUCATION

This section of the report considers the level of education among residents of the Mission Services target area. Table 9 compares the highest level of formal education attained among individuals 15 years and older in the City of Hamilton as a whole, to that of the target area.

Table 9: Highest Level of Education Among Individuals 15 years and over in the City of Hamilton and the Mission Services Target Area (2001 Census)

Level of Education	Hamilton	Target Area
Less than High School Graduation Certificate	34%	48%
High School Graduation Certificate	26%	28%
Trades Certificate or Diploma	10%	11%
College Certificate or Diploma	16%	10%
University Certificate, Diploma or Degree	15%	3%

The most dramatic observation from the table is the number of individuals who have not completed high school. While 34% of Hamilton residents do not possess a high school graduation certificate, this number is 15% higher for the target area (48%).

At the other end of the spectrum, 31% of Hamilton residents have earned a college diploma or university degree. In the target area, this number drops to 13%.

COMMUNITY SUPPORTS AND SERVICES

According to data leased from Inform Hamilton, a not-for-profit agency that maintains a database of local community services, there are eighty-four community supports and services currently operating in the Mission Services target area (see APPENDIX A for a complete list of programs and services, with a detailed description of each). It is important to note that this total includes both schools (6) and churches (15) located in the target area, as they are often seen as neighbourhood hubs, providing formal or informal supports outside their primary mandate.

Aside from schools and churches, programs and services operating in the target area primarily focus on three areas:

Child and youth services – there are 29 programs and services that support children and youth including child care services, sports and recreation programs, education and life skills programs, counseling services, day camps and drop-in's.

Services for seniors – there are 9 programs and services that support seniors including housing services, sports and recreational programs, and social programs.

Social/cultural programs – there are 8 social/cultural programs operating in the target area, that primarily target cultural groups of Eastern European origin. These groups create important social networks, promote cultural heritage and address other needs identified by the community.

There are also a number of multi service organizations operating in the target area that provide a range of supports including access to food, clothing and furniture, counseling services and other general supports. These agencies are operated primarily by Kiwanis, Goodwill the Amity Group, and Café Adonai, a Christian charitable organization.

Other agencies operating in the Mission Services target area include public libraries, policing and legal services, environmental services and labour organizations. It is important to note that while the programs and services outlined in this section of the report are geographically located within the target area, they are generally accessible to the broader community.

While a number of community services and programs are operating within the target area, it is beyond the scope of this report to determine the degree to which needs are being met or where gaps in service exist. In terms of service planning, it is recommended that once a service area is identified, further analysis should be undertaken. This should include consultation with existing service providers, as well as the target population of the program or service.

Hamilton Public Library Kenilworth Branch Courage Collection	103 Kenilworth Ave North Hamilton, ON L8H 4R6	Over the years, since the inception of The Child Abuse Council, thousands of children, families, community members and professionals have contacted the agency for a variety of service requirements. Consequently, in response to the resource needs of the large number of children, individuals and families receiving services, the training required of volunteers and group facilitators, daily requests for information from professionals, referring agencies and the general public, a new community based initiative has been undertaken. The Child Abuse Council has partnered with the Hamilton Public Library to create a fully accessible, specialized collection of resource materials. These resources include information and reference books, children's and youth storybooks, videos, manuals, audiotapes, self-help tools and other educational materials dealing with matters such as childhood traumas, recovery and healing issues, and adult survivor topics. The collection, which has been named "The Courage Collection", is housed on the second floor at the Kenilworth Library Branch of the Hamilton Public Library. The collection is equipped with a television, VCR, a computer, worktables and comfortable seating. Materials in the collection are available to everyone in Hamilton and surrounding areas through the use of their library card and the inter-library loaning option. Consequently, many people will have access to a wealth of valuable information to make use of either at the Kenilworth Library site, their work place or in the privacy of their own home. The initiation of this community-focused project has been made possible by a $10,000.00 grant from a private family Foundation. Any support and/or donation towards sustaining The Courage Collection would be appreciated. For further information or enquiries about The Courage collection please contact The Child Abuse Council office at 905-523-1020.
